GOP CONTROL IN COUNTY MAY BE AT STAKE THIS EVENING

A letter received by a number of Republican committeemen and women Wednesday indicates tonight's session of the Adams County Republican Committee in the Hotel Gettysburg pressroom at 7:30 o'clock may erupt into a battle for control of the party.

The meeting had been called by Chairman H. Earl Pitzer to hear a talk by State Republican Chairman George I. Bloom; advance plans for the annual Lincoln Day dinner February 16 and discuss plans for voter registration.

The letter signed by Mrs. Elna R. Group, Gardner, vice chairman of the Republican county committee, contains a resolution which apparently asks the resignation of Chairman Pitzer, Committeemen Clyde Orner, Margaret Garretson, John Pitzer, and Mary Miller, Advisory Committee member Rhoda Gitt and former Advisory Committee member Mrs. Ethel Butterfield.

CONSULTING LAWYERS

Mrs. Group's letter claims the chairman and the others, "it is reliably reported, worked for an opposition candidate during the past campaign." Those accused said they were meeting with attorneys today to determine if there is a basis for a libel or slander suit.

Mrs. Group's letter dated January 9, said: "At the meeting called for 12 January 1961 opportunity will be afforded to present the accompanying resolution for adoption. A motion for secret balloting will be made and I am sure you will help to

SEEK $4,000 FROM EASTER SEAL SALES

The annual Easter Seal sale by the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, opening March 2 and concluding at Easter, will seek $4,000 in gifts from individuals and organizations, it was announced at the January meeting of the society's board of directors Wednesday evening at the Methodist Church here.

The new president of the society, the Rev. Amos D. Meyers, York Springs, presided at the meeting.

The Easter Seal sale goal and other plans for the annual fund-raising effort were announced by Mrs. Edgar K. Markley, seal drive chairman.

HELP CRIPPLED CHILDREN

The board approved purchases of special shoes for two crippled boys and a girl, ordered cushions for two wheel chairs being put in use by crippled youngsters after their purchase by the society and approved an annual $52 donation to the state's Camp Lend-a-Hand, near Harrisburg. A $5 payment to the Adams County Council of Community Services also was approved.

Special shoes were approved for a girl with partially corrected

Directors' Name Omitted In List

The name of Arthur E. Hutchison was inadvertently omitted from Wednesday's list of the directors of the Gettysburg National Bank who were re-elected by the stockholders for another year at the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon. The Times regrets the error.

In early papers Wednesday, an incorrect figure was given in connection with the increase in the bank's capital stock. The increase approved Tuesday boosts the bank's capital stock from $625,000 to $750,000. The new stock is being issued with a par value of $5 but will be sold at $15. Present stockholders have prior rights to purchases of the new stock.

State Opens Observance Of Civil War Centennial On Sunday, Says Governor

Governor Lawrence Wednesday issued an official proclamation setting January 15 as the official opening of Pennsylvania's observance of the nationwide Civil War Centennial and calling upon citizens through their public and private institutions to take part in this great national historical commemoration.

Governor Lawrence designated January 15 as the opening of the Pennsylvania activity because this date marks the 100th anniversary of the inauguration of Andrew Gregg Curtin, Pennsylvania's great Civil War governor and one of the most distinguished state leaders of the Civil War era.

CITES INAUGURAL PLEDGE

The governor pointed out that in his inaugural, Curtin spoke out for the preservation of the Union as a national government based upon a compact to which all the people of the United States had agreed at Philadelphia in 1787 when the Constitution was framed. Curtin also denied the right of any single state to secede from that Union without the consent of the others. Curtin pledged the support of Pennsylvania to upholding this principle of national unity.

Governor Lawrence said that these statements were not only the first strong affirmation of national union denying the right of secession on the part of any state, but also that they were prompted by communication between President-elect Lincoln and Governor-elect Curtin in December 1860. As a result, the Curtin Inaugural Address followed closely ideas which later were incorporated in Lincoln's own Inaugural Address.

Ike Tells Of Foreign And Economic Progress In Last Message; Cites Red Threat

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress in a farewell State of the Union message today that America has forged ahead in foreign and economic policy in the last eight years, but still confronts grave problems.

The retiring chief executive cited the continuing Communist menace to Berlin, in Cuba, and elsewhere in the world. And he spoke of intermittent declines in economic activity at home which he said leave "little room for complacency."

"I do not close this message implying that all is well—that all problems are solved, for progress implies both new and continuing problems and, unlike presidential administrations, problems rarely have terminal dates," Eisenhower said.

CONTINUING RED THREAT

"Abroad there is the continuing Communist threat to the freedom of Berlin, an explosive situation in Laos, the problems caused by Communist penetration in Cuba, as well as the many problems

Eisenhowers To Be Guests At "Welcome Home" Dinner, Reception Here January 21

President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be guests of honor at a neighborly reception and "welcome home" dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday evening, January 21. The Eisenhowers are expected to arrive at their farm late in the afternoon of January 20. They will attend the inauguration of Sen. John F. Kennedy after which the President will be guest of honor at a luncheon tendered him by his cabinet.

The Gettysburg reception committee presented three plans for the "welcome home" program and the Eisenhowers approved the Saturday program.

When the Eisenhowers come here on Friday they will go to their farm to rest after an arduous last day in the White House. Late Saturday afternoon they will drive to Lincoln Square arriving at 6:30 o'clock for a brief outdoor reception on a rostrum to be erected in the northeast segment of the square. There will be music and a very brief welcome address.

GUESTS AT DINNER

President and Mrs. Eisenhower will then be guests of honor at a "welcome home" dinner in the Hotel Gettysburg beginning at approximately 7 or 7:15 o'clock. There will be music, a brief talk and two gifts will be presented the guests. The program for the evening has not been completed as yet but as soon as it is it will be announced.

Attendance at the dinner must necessarily be limited to 200 because of the facilities of the dining room.

The "welcome home" reception and dinner will include representatives of the various organizations in the community and dinner tickets are limited to members of those groups which the committee feels their combined memberships very likely include the entire population of the town. Each organization has been appraised of the details of the programs and the heads of these groups are notifying their memberships of the affair. He or she will in turn notify the committee of the number of dinner tickets requested, and insofar as possible they will be granted on a pro-rata basis. The committee is aware that it will be impossible to fill all requests for dinner tickets but has made it a point to provide representation from every organization in the community at the dinner.

Red Rebels Are Bombed In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (delayed by censorship) (AP) — American-supplied planes flown by Laotian pilots strafed and bombed pro-Communists rebel forces Wednesday for the first time.

British, French and other European diplomats in the Laotian capital expressed grave concern the air raid — first reported in the six-year-old civil war—would trigger a retaliatory action by the Soviet Union or Communist China.

The Laotian pilots made their raid in four F4 observation planes armed with rockets, machine guns and presumably with two 100-pound bombs each. The United States had delivered the planes to pro-Western Premier Boun Oum's forces Tuesday as part of the U. S. military support program for Laos.

Boun Oum's government had warned the Soviet government Monday that unless it halted its airlift of arms and ammunition to Capt. Kong Le's pro-Communist rebels in central Laos, it would take "appropriate steps."

FAIRFIELD R. 1 TRUCK DRIVER TAKES HIS LIFE

A Fairfield R. 1 truck driver took his life early Wednesday morning in York.

The body of Earl Griffith Hardman, 39, was found in a parked auto four blocks from York's center square about 7 o'clock. A newsboy delivering papers saw Hardman's body in the car and reported it to police who investigated and found he had died of carbonmonoxide poisoning.

The York County coroner issued a certificate of death by suicide. He said a hose led from the car's exhaust to the interior of the machine.

Hardman had been working for Shipley-Humble Oil Co., York, for the last six months and was reported in good health. No reason is known for his action.

Born at Fairfield R. 1, he was a son of Daniel S. and the late Nellie C. (Gantz) Hardman. He lived all his life at Fairfield R. 1 except for five years when he was employed in Baltimore. He attended school at Zora. Prior to World War II he enlisted in the Army and served in the Pacific theater. Following his discharge he worked as a truck driver with various concerns. He was a member of the American Legion Post,

WILL SPLIT COSTS ON RR BRIDGE WORK

Western Maryland Railway, Adams County and Cumberland Twp. Wednesday afternoon, at a PUC hearing in the court house here, reached a decision by which the three will renovate, enlarge and maintain the Hoopes' Cut bridge west of here over the railroad tracks.

The PUC hearing, in its second day, was on the question of ownership of the bridge. The compromise worked out by the three units provides in effect that all three own it and as a result the three will share the cost of reconstructing the bridge and its future maintenance.

SERIES OF CONFERENCES

Testimony as to the condition and ownership of the bridge was given at the first day of the PUC hearing held in November. At the second day of the hearing Wednesday additional testimony was given. Then about 2:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon attorneys asked for a recess. Conferences began between the three groups with Attorney Charles W. Wolf, representing the county, serving as mediator. About two hours later the hearing reconvened and Attorney Paul A. Parsons, representing the Western Maryland began to dictate a "stipulation" into the record with the attorneys for the township and county "listening in" and making suggestions from time to time. Eventually the lengthy statement was completed to the satisfaction of all concerned and Attorney Richard Rea, Harrisburg, and Attorney Wolf added their statements

WILL ENGAGE POLICE OFFICER

The New Oxford borough council, at its January meeting Monday, voted to engage a full-time police officer at a salary of $4,500 with $25 car and uniform expenses monthly. It was announced that three applications had been received.

The matter of insurance for the water and disposal plants was tabled for further study after an estimate from one firm listed the cost at $1,000 per year.

Council granted an extension of three months to property owners who have not yet disconnected drain spouts from the sanitary sewer system. The action was taken because of inclement weather the past few weeks.

A request for water service from a Cross Keys area property owner was denied. The borough at present supplies water to the area but it was felt that no further extension was practical or feasible at the present time.

Manager Lawrence Bevenour said that "we did not have enough time" when asked why the snow was not removed from walks through the square more promptly. Authorization was given for help to be secured when snow removal operations are necessary and employees do not have time.

THREATS TO HISTORY

In his address Historian Kahler had the following to say about threats to historical preservation: "Progress has been made in preserving historic sites and buildings but the forces of destruction have moved faster than the forces of preservation. In the first place, man has become very mobile with the automobile. He wants to get away from the crowded cities so he moves to the suburbs or the country. Battlefields such as Antietam which have remained as farm areas for over 100 years are now being threatened by subdivisions. Historic houses are expensive to maintain and frequently do not lend themselves to economical present-day use.

"So in the name of progress they are torn down to make room for a filling station or an apartment. Through neglect many structures fall into ruin and decay. Perhaps one of the greatest shortcomings in historical preservation is the failure to identify and evaluate the structures that are worthy of preservation. Unless the owner and the community are aware that it has property of great historical importance, they will make little effort to preserve it."

VALUE OF SITES

He continued with a discussion of the value of historic sites:

"To preserve historic sites and buildings costs money and as taxpayers and enlightened citizens you might well ask the question, 'What is the value of historic sites and buildings?' In the first place, historic sites and buildings help us understand continuity and contrast in history. They help show how the present has grown out of the past. For example, those of you who visited the old store at the Landis Valley Museum will remember the potbelied stove, the bins of flour, sugar, and crackers. If you contrasted it with a present-day supermarket you would find many items still in common use but also many items such as frozen foods and orange concentrates missing. The heating, lighting, and arrangement of the store as well as service are different. If we examine the Victorian living room in Landis Valley house we note many of the creature comforts we are still seeking today but we are also aware of the contrast and change in taste.

"In viewing historic structures we can use our present day experience as a basis for comparison. The opportunities to trace the threads of continuity between the present and the past and to show the contrast between different periods of history are numerous, stimulating, and rewarding. Historic sites and structures help us to gain understanding through observation. Historic sites help us step back in time. They give a sense of realism to past events. "Historic sites also have value in an economic way. They stimulate travel. The State of Virginia has capitalized on its historical assets in a large way. It is its second largest source of income. Pennsylvania received 1.3 billion travel dollars in 1960. Here at Gettysburg the tourist's dollar is a substantial crop.

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

"Talking of economic values, the Civil War Centennial just announced by President Eisenhower will encourage extensive travel. The federal government has taken two important steps to keep alive the memory of those who participated in the war. In the first place it has created a Federal Civil War Centennial Commission of 25 members. Under the able leadership of General U. S. Grant III, the chairman, and Carl Betts, executive director, this commission has stimulated action on the part of states and communities to plan suitable observances. At the present time 42 states have established commissions. Pennsylvania has established a special commission for the Gettysburg observance.

"Twenty-four state legislatures have already appropriated funds for centennial purposes varying in amounts from $1,500 to over $1,300,000. The federal commission itself is not planning to put on large ceremonies but is depending primarily on states and communities to handle such activities. Its approach is to inform, stimulate and publicize the centennial but depend upon the states, local communities, historical societies, churches, schools, libraries, museums, civic and service organizations to plan and carry out their own programs.

STRAYER YAKE WINS PLAQUE

E. Strayer Yake, son of At-torney and Mrs. J. Francis Yake, New Oxford R. 1, carried off the only prize in the open classes of the eapon division of the poultry show at the state Farm Show at Harrisburg Wednesday.

A member of the Future Farmers of America chapter at the New Oxford High School, Yake carried off sweepstake egg honors there earlier in the week.

Yake's winning bird is a 12-pound white eapon. It won a $5 first prize in its class and the State Farm Products Show Commission's walnut plaque for the best eapon in the show.

Young Yake, whose white eapon captured first prizes in open spirited competition in the open classes of the last two state farm shows, is among 201 FFA boys who received the Keystone Farmer degree Wednesday at Harrisburg.

Herbert S. Sterner, Littlestown R. 1, whose 16-head Guernsey entry in the dairy cattle division carried off a basketful of awards earlier in the week, won a "good housekeeping" award at the Farm Show on Wednesday. The award goes to the dairy cattle exhibitor who does the best job of keeping stalls and cattle neat and clean.

Other lists of winners from Harrisburg today show that Arlan Reynolds, New Oxford R. 2, won an eighth place award in a class of Spotted Poland China junior spring girls.

LISTS "OFFENDERS"

"Be sure to come. If you can not make it, send your proxy."

"There is just not enough time to write to every committee member. If you feel that other members of your local committee will be interested in supporting this resolution, please talk with them."

"For your information—officials who, it is reliably reported, worked for an opposition candidate during the past campaign are Clyde Orner, Margaret Garretson, John Pitzer, Mary Miller, Rhoda Gitt, Ethel Butterfield and the chairman. Instances of similar activities in the past include the campaigns of Charles Baird, John Shealer, Senator McPherson, Luther Baltzley, seven of the past campaigns of Francis Worley as well as others."

"OPEN MEETING"

"Mr. Worley has been invited to attend this meeting and from long experience is sure that he is to be the target of one more personal attack on the part of the chairman. It could only be personal since Mr. Worley has no official position within the committee and, unlike the chairman, no responsibility for what happens within."

"As is the custom, the chairman has declared this meeting to be an open one, hoping thus to surround committee members with people who agree with him and intimidate the committee into doing what he wants done. The remedy for this is to do likewise—to come yourself, bring your friends and stand your ground in the discussion and during the voting."

"It would appear that announcement of the speaker for the Lincoln Day Dinner (could it be President Eisenhower?) will prove so interesting and pleasing to the committee that the very real problem of the committee might be lost in the enthusiasm."

LONG RESOLUTION

Accompanying the letter is a page-long resolution which claims some committee members violated a bylaw which provides they must work for "all nominated Republican candidates at all times"; claims the chairman did not stop the action on the part of the committee members and resolves that "the committee here assembled go on record as having lost confidence in the administration of affairs of the committee by the chairman." The resolution asks resignation of "committee members and party officials against whom concrete evidence of defection is on record" and calls for a reorganization of the executive committee "to include all schools of thought." It asks the reorganization be accomplished by the chairman with the advice of the vice chairman plus three members of the county committee "who are not members of the existing executive committee, one to be appointed by the chairman and two by the vice chairman."

Also included in the letter was a proxy to be signed by committeemen who cannot attend the meeting.

Mrs. Group was elected vice chairman at a meeting in June at which she voted 40 proxies. A count for seven years, Mrs. Group has been a committeeman since last spring. Assemblyman Worley has held a number of meetings with committeemen recently.

Five Adams County winners in the "Youthpower — Food Comes First" contest have been announced and will be sent to Harrisburg February 7 for the state's Youthpower Congress.

WILL SEND AID TO CHEROKEES

The Gettysburg Church of the Brethren will send a truck load of relief material to the Cherokee Indians at Snowshoe Indian Reservation, Robbinsville, N. C., in response to an urgent appeal.

At the Brethren Service Commission meeting Tuesday evening in the church, Rev. C. Reynolds Simmons and the commission chairman, R. Kenneth Foust, told of the plans to take a truck to the reservation January 27 and 28, a trip of some 1,200 miles.

Rev. Simmons said the Indians need blankets and infants' clothing and anyone wishing to donate articles, shoes, of low heel variety, toys, baby articles, blankets, woolen or cotton stockings, children's apparel, etc., should take them either to the Norman Plank service station at Greenmount R. 2, or to Kenzie's Market, 45 S. Franklin St. Donors may call ED 4-5189 or ED 4-2179 to have the articles picked up.

Plans were also made for the narration of the slides taken by Kenneth Foust last fall during his trip to the Holy Land by a young Jordanian, who was born in Bethlehem and was the altar boy at the Church of the Nativity. The slides, along with a male quartet from the Chambersburg area, will be shown at the Brethren Church along the Biglerville Rd. January 22 at 7:30 p.m.

discussion that the program be turned over entirely to a fraternity which assisted the last two years with the drive. The fraternity, it was reported, would like to head up the annual campaign.

Raymond "Patsy" Bishong was placed on the retired firemen's list on length of service.

G. Henry Roth, chairman for the ambulance corps, reported new listings have been made for the service of members as drivers during the year. Plans have been set up for a training session from 7 to 9 o'clock "each third Thursday of the month," starting in February.

AMBULANCE FINANCES

The report of the auditors showed the ambulance operation during the year cost $377. Income totaled $2,840 of which $400 was from the Moose, $500 from the Exchange Club and $1,000 from the 97th Battle Anniversary committee, leaving $940 received from donations and charges for trips to cities outside the county area. Of the receipts, $1,500 was put in the fund being built up to buy a new ambulance when the older of the present two ambulances is replaced, and $1,000 was put in a special saving fund for major maintenance when needed. Transportation of a patient to Baltimore recently during which it was necessary to provide plasma en-route led to a decision to place special clamps in the ambulance to hold plasma, Roth reported.

RELIEF FUND REPORT

The auditors' report of the firemen's relief fund shows the fund received $3,954.67 from the state during the year and expenditures totaled $5,800, including $5,000 placed in a mutual fund. The relief fund balance now totals $39,267.41, plus the $5,000 in the mutual fund.

President Raffensperger, noting the amount that has accumulated over the years, said that a speaker is to be secured from the state for a meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association here in April to tell about expenditures allowed by the state from the relief funds.

BANQUET JAN. 17

The firemen learned from the audit that they "made a profit" on the refreshment fund. Income of the fund during the year was $1,146.86 while expenditures were $946.83. The firemen each meeting night donate individually toward the fund, then have refreshments paid by that account.

Fire Department general fund income during the year—from the Battle Anniversary program and donations—totaled $13,279.63 according to the audit. Expenses during the year totaled $6,816.10.

Further plans were announced for the Veteran Firemen's banquet January 17 at the American Legion Home and the firemen's ladies' night banquet at the Moose Lodge February 14.

Highway: Harry L. Haines, congressman from the York, Adams and Franklin county district, has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives at Washington authorizing construction of a memorial highway between the Lincoln memorial in Washington and the Gettysburg battlefield.
Last Thursday, Senator James
J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, proposed to the Senate a bill calling for the construction of a Gettysburg-Washington boulevard. Senator Davis' measure was referred to the committee of post offices and post roads.
The original plan for the Gettysburg-Washington boulevard was started in 1935 by Congressman Haines when a bill he introduced was passed by Congress and signed by the President. The 1935 bill provided for a commission of ten members and appropriated $10,000 for commission expenses. The commissioners were to serve without pay.Dr. D. L. Beegle

Today's Talk

NOBODY HOME!

I sat in a business conference recently. Every once in a while a real idea would be born and the different people would look it over.
Suddenly one of the men exclaimed: "Ah, I have it. Bill Blank of the Blank Company will grab at such an idea."The telephone was then called into the conference. It was nearly three in the afternoon. But the man wanted had not returned from lunch. Another man was asked for. No one knew where he was.One reason why normal business is not resuming is that too many folks are "out to lunch"— and two few on the job.Someone once remarked that though Opportunity might knock and knock at one's door, it should not be expected to kick the panels in!There must be somebody home when ideas come—somebody home when your chance calls.I saw a man walk into a prominent store the other day. He glanced at some of the wares displayed, then turned around and walked out. I noted that one of the salesmen nearest stood telling a story to some man. Soon this man left—but the man who did not get what he went into that store for may never return. To him, there was nobody home there.I frequently wonder if the simple and extremely common virtues which have done such marvelous work during past years may not be just as useful and essential now—when they are really needed most.I am wondering if courtesy, promptness, consideration, truthfulness and hard work are unfashionable.I am wondering whether if people were on the job more—with their minds set upon service—business wouldn't actually thrive and a sort of newness come into the lives of everybody everywhere.A good idea is to have set hours when people are sure to find you —home!Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk

Tales"Protected, 1961, by The George

Penn State Will Oppose Bullets Here Tonight; GHS At Carlisle Friday

One of the season's largest crowds is expected tonight when the Gettysburg College cagers entertain Penn State University in the Eddie Plank gymnasium.

The Bullets, 8-2, and riding the crest of a four-game winning streak, will undoubtedly have their hands full against highly-regarded Penn State which is 6-5.

The Nittany Lions suffered a rude jolt Tuesday evening when Bucknell triumphed 71-67 at Lewisburg and that defeat may make the Lions doubly tough against the Bullets.

Captain Mark DuMars, the Lions' hope for All-America honors, has been the most consistent scorer for his team. He was held to eight points by Bucknell while his teammate Gene Harris landed 24.

Penn State's starters will probably include the following: DuMars 5-10, Harris 6-3, Jake Trueblood 6-5, Earl Hoffman 6-5, and John Mitchell 6-1.

At 6:45 the college freshmen (6-2) take on York Junior College in the preliminary.

Gettysburg High resumes action Friday evening at Carlisle in a South Penn League game.

The Warriors (6-1) dropped their only league game at Hanover. Carlisle is 2-0 in league play and one of its victories was an easy 51-35 conquest of Hanover which points to a very stiff assignment for the Warriors.

The jayvee teams will meet in the preliminary at 6:45.

JUNIOR HIGH HOME

Gettysburg Junior High makes its home debut Friday evening when it meets Waynesboro in a league-doubleheader the preliminary game starting at 6:30.

The Braves suffered a severe lacing at Hanover last Friday in their only previous contest.

In Adams-Franklin League games Friday evening Fairfield plays at Littlestown, Bermudian at James Buchanan, and New Oxford at Greencastle.

Delone Catholic, beaten in its opening Central Penn Catholic League game, will meet Lancaster Catholic at McSherrystown Friday evening in another league twin bill.

MEET AT BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville High School's wrestlers will meet York this evening at 7:30 in a York County League match at Biglerville. York is unbeaten in league affairs and has a 4-0 mark. Johnny Toggas' Cannors are 2-1-1 in the circuit.

NCAA COUNCIL SAYS NO PAY TO RECRUITERS

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — On the heels of the North Carolina probation case the National Collegiate Athletic Association has put recruiters of high school athletes on a no-cash basis.

Legislation adopted at the business session of the 55th annual NCAA convention Wednesday stipulated that colleges may not pay the expenses of athletic talent scouts. It was also ruled that a member college may not put a recruiter on the payroll and claim him as a staff member.

The legislation was drafted in advance of the disciplinary action Tuesday that placed North Carolina on probation for a year and barred the school's seventh-ranked basketball team from the national championships.

LONG SESSION

But it was recalled by convention delegates that one of the charges against North Carolina involved untempered expense accounts turned in by semi-official recruiter Harry Gotkin, who scouted high school basketball players in the New York area.

Wednesday's convention climax was one of the longest ever but the NCAA gathering was expected to wind up quickly today with a routine morning meeting of the council.

Recruiting rules were also tightened by the adoption of a measure which requires persons paying for the transportation of an athlete on a visit to a college campus to accompany the athlete. The NCAA feels boosters won't encourage so many campus visits if they have to make the trips themselves.

NAMED PRO COACH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Buck Shaw, whose Philadelphia Eagles won the National Football League title, today was named pro coach of 1960 by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Shaw, like the Eagles' quarterback Norm Van Brocklin — who Wednesday was named pro player of the year — will miss the club's annual award banquet Saturday night. They are in Los Angeles for the pro-bowl game on Sunday and will receive their trophies during the nationwide telecast of that contest.

EXPECT LARGE FIELD IN SAN DIEGO OPEN

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Golf star Arnold Palmer launches a comeback today as 138 professionals and 13 amateurs open play in the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Much against his will, Palmer retired from the Los Angeles Open after only two rounds. He failed to qualify for the final two rounds, thanks to his 12 strokes on one hole and a 77 for the second round.

His composure, and very likely his game, restored, Palmer resumed a campaign to match all the laurels he won in 1960, which included the National Open, the Masters and more than $80,000.

SUNNY WEATHER

The tournament scene is the 6,725-yard, par 35-36-71 Mission Valley Country Club. Sunny weather was promised.

The field is possibly the best in the history of San Diego's winter fixture. Twenty-eight of the 30 top money winners of 1960 are entered.

Prominent is 29-year-old Bob Goalby, who won the $45,000 Los Angeles open last Monday.

SEEKS 3RD STRAIGHT WIN

Goalby is seeking three straight tournament wins. Prior to the Los Angeles triumph, he closed out 1960 with a victory in the Coral Gables, Fla., open.

Billy Casper Jr., former U.S. Open champion, pulled the three-straight feat last year, winning the Portland, Ore., and Hesperia and Orange County, Calif., opens. Casper is entered here.

The defending San Diego champion, Mike Souchak, also is present. A year ago he shot rounds of 67, 68, 67 and 67 for 269. Par for the course then was 72.

Also here is Art Wall Jr., runner-up at Los Angeles.

Penn State Picks All Opponent Team

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Three Missouri players have been chosen by Penn State's football players on their 1960 all-opponent team.

End Dan LaRose, tackle Rockne Calhoun and halfback Mel West were the Missouri players chosen. LaRose was an All-America choice this past season.

The Nittany Lions picked a 12-man opponent team because of a tie at quarterback between Oregon's Dave Grosz and Holy Cross' Pat McCarthy.

Oregon, the Lions' Liberty Bowl opponent, was represented on the team by Grosz and halfback Dave Grayson. Army and Pittsburgh also placed two men each.

Army players named were guard Al Vanderbush and fullback Al Rushatz; Pitt placed end Mike Ditka and guard Larry Vignali. Illinois' Joe Rutgers at tackle and Maryland's Bob Hacker, as the best center to face the Nittany Lions, rounded out the mythical team.

LaRose was the only unanimous selection on the team.

Black Hawks And Red Wings In Tie

CHICAGO (AP) — The third-place Chicago Black Hawks had their victory string stopped at seven games Wednesday night but managed a 2-2 tie with the fourth-place Detroit Red Wings.

It was the only game scheduled in the National Hockey League.

At 1:47 of the third period, Bobby Hull, defending National Hockey League scoring champion, took a long shot rebound and drove the disk behind Detroit goalie Hank Bassen. It was his 20th goal of the season and locked the game.

In two NHL games tonight, second-place Toronto is at league-leading Montreal and the fifth place New York Rangers are at last-place Boston.

RECORDS FALL AS DELAWARE MERMEN WIN

Three records, two pool and a school mark, fell as Gettysburg College swimming team dropped a 60-35 decision to the University of Delaware in the Student Union Building pool Wednesday afternoon. The Bullets are now 0-2 on the season while Delaware is sporting a 3-1 slate.

Charles Derrick, Delaware butterfly specialist, snapped the pool record set in 1960 by Dick Talley of Dickinson. Derrick came home in 2:36.6. Doug Seeley, Bullet ace, broke his own record in the 200-yard breaststroke as he finished in 2:39.3. Delaware set a new school mark when they said home in the 400-yard freestyle relay in 3:44.5.

The Delaware Freshmen walked off with the preliminary meet as they copped a 62-28 victory over the Bullet yearlings. Scott Ashman, Bill Lohrenz and the 400-yard medley relay team were the only three first place wins for the Bullets. Ashman won the diving while Lohrenz captured the 200-breaststroke.

Gettysburg will travel to Lewisburg on Saturday for an afternoon engagement with the Bisons of Bucknell.

SOVIETS EDGE AMERICANS IN FIRST MEET

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Led by Sofya Muratova, the Olympic-winning Russian women's gymnastic team Wednesday night defeated the United States women's team, 153.199 to 149.967.

Miss Muratova was the top individual all-around winner with the highest number of points, 38.499. She took first place on the balanced beam and second place in free exercise and the side horse vault.

Right behind her was teammate Larisa Latynina with 38.467 points. Miss Latynina scored a first place in the side horse vault, tied for first in the free exercises and scored a second in the uneven parallel bars and a third on the balanced beam.

Doris Fuchs, of Rochester, N.Y., a student at Georgia Southern College, won a gold medal for the United States by upsetting Miss Latynina and Tamara Ljukhina in the uneven parallel bars.

Another American, Muriel Grossfeld, of Champaign, Ill., tied Miss Latynina for first in the free exercises. Mrs. Grossfeld also won third place in the balanced beam.

Gail Sontgerath, a 16-year-old high school student from West Palm Beach, Fla., took third place in the side horse vault.

Piersall Likes Boston Over KC

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cleveland outfielder Jimmy Piersall says he wouldn't be happy if he traded to Kansas City and, if he had a choice, would take Boston over any other town.

"It's more satisfying to play for a pennant contender like Cleveland, than for Kansas City. (Frank) Lane has a long, hard pull ahead of him there."

Lane quit last week as Cleveland's general manager to take a similar job with Kansas City. Later, he suggested Piersall be traded to the Athletics.

Piersall, here Wednesday for a speaking engagement, said he realizes Lane has "got to keep the fans coming. He apparently thinks I might help. I appreciate that. But if I was to be traded and had a choice of cities, I'd take Boston where my wife and seven children live."

"He (Jackson) always hurt us in the past," said Ramsay. "In three previous games he'd averaged more than 30 points a game."

"DID GOOD JOB"
Jackson, who was guarded by Frank Majewski and Tom Wynne after Majewski collected three personal fouls, scored 19 points in the basketball contest Wednesday night at the Palestine.

"Both Majewski and Wynne did a good job," said Ramsay. "That and putting pressure on the back court men so they couldn't get their offense going was our strategy."

Offensively, Ramsay singled out Vince Kempton who made 10 of 13 field goals and one free throw to lead the Hawks in scoring with 21 points. Kempton didn't score a single point when St. Joseph's defeated St. John's 82-77 last year.

Ramsay said Kempton, a 6-8 center who has been averaging only nine points a game, was able to shoot over the Redmen's 6-9 Leroy Ellis because Ellis was dropping off and giving him room.

Ramsay said it was the best game St. Joseph's had played this year. The Hawks now are 9-3 while St. John's is 9-2.

YANKES SEEM ROOKIE WEAK FOR THIS YEAR

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Yankee farm system which for years produced outstanding big league prospects to the parent New York club doesn't figure to be of much help for 1961.

Only 10 new faces adorn the Yankee roster and it would come as no surprise if none of the newcomers stick with the varsity.

Those with an outside chance to stick appear to be Deron Johnson, a third baseman; Leroy Thomas, an outfielder; and Jesse Gonder, a catcher.

Johnson, 22, is a strapping right-handed hitter who swatted 27 home runs and drove in 92 runs despite a .245 batting average at Richmond.

HIT .390
Thomas, 25, is a left-handed hitter who combined enemy pitchers for a .390 average while at Amarillo in the Texas League. After being advanced to Richmond, he hit only .246.

The Yankees acquired Gonder, 25, from the Cincinnati Reds' Pacific Coast League farm team at Seattle last spring.

At Richmond, where he played last year, the left-handed hitting Gonder, only Negro on the team, batted .327.

The best of the raw recruits may be a 21-year-old right-hander named Roland Sheldon. A former University of Connecticut star, Sheldon had a 15-1 record at Auburn last year, posting a 2.88 earned run average.

HOFSTRA IS SECOND IN POLL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tennessee State, riding a 13-game winning streak, has increased its lead over Hofstra in the weekly Associated Press small college basketball poll.

Tennessee State, beaten only in its season opener, collected seven first place votes and 79 points in the balloting by The AP's eight-man board, representing each of the NCAA districts. Hofstra (10-1) drew the remaining first place vote and 63 points, although it lost to Albright after 23 straight victories.

A week ago, Tennessee State was named the top team on only three ballots and received 57 points while Hofstra had two firsts and 53 points.

The leaders, with worst records through Jan. 9 and first place votes in parentheses (points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1. Tennessee State (7) (13-1) 79

Shaw, like the Eagles' quarterback Norm Van Brocklin — who Wednesday was named pro player of the year — will miss the club's annual award banquet Saturday night. They are in Los Angeles for the pro-bowl game on Sunday and will receive their trophies during the nationwide telecast of that contest.

Kennedy's Speed-Up Missile Program, Expanded Fighting Forces And Other Objectives Will Cost U.S. Many Billions

Editor's Note — As the inauguration nears, problems facing the Kennedy administration in military affairs outnumber announced programs for solutions. In the fourth of five articles on the broad outline of Kennedy policies, an Associated Press specialist identifies areas awaiting important decisions.

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy has said he wants to speed up the missile program, expand forces for fighting conventional war, improve air defense, do more about protection against rocket-firing submarines.

If the incoming administration makes these and other changes in the nation's military program it will cost money—perhaps more than the $42-billion or $43-billion defense program expected to be submitted by the outgoing Eisenhower administration. But Kennedy also has expressed belief that billions can be saved by administrative improvements and curtailing service competition.

OTHER BIG FACTORS

Beyond these programs which can be controlled by Kennedy and his defense secretary-designate, Robert S. McNamara, are other potential factors which can be decided by national policy making alone.

Shifts in the international situation can influence profoundly Kennedy's national defense policies.

He comes to office as new tensions mount in Southeast Asia, as relations with Cuba worsen, as the future trend of NATO defensive strength is considered, as pressures increase for resumption of nuclear weapons tests.

Any one of many world problems can dictate the size, kind and deployment of U.S. forces. An argument reiterated during the presidential campaign was that the United States had lost prestige militarily as well as politically. Democratic critics aimed particularly at the missile category. In answering a series of questions by the publication "Missiles and Rockets," Kennedy said during the campaign that he would send to Congress several specific requests, among them proposals to "accelerate our Polaris, Minuteman and other strategic missile programs."

"MINIMIZE COMPETITION"

In the same statement, Kennedy said competition between the armed forces must be minimized, that "our competitors lie on the other side of the Iron Curtain." It happens that the sharpest competition among the services at the moment concerns the very weapons mentioned by Kennedy—the Navy's Polaris missile-atomic submarine system, on the one hand, and the Minuteman and other strategic missile programs of the Air Force.

Available to Kennedy will be the policy followed by the present administration: a mixture of strategic weapons launched from distant or intermediate ranges, from protected sites and from submerged submarines, by plane-carried nuclear bombs as well as missiles.

PROGRAM DUPLICATIONS

But there undoubtedly has been duplication in the development programs of the services. Missiles closely similar in range and load-carrying capability have been developed independently not only by the Navy and Air Force but by the Army.

There are problems other than these strategic concepts facing Kennedy and McNamara. The budget, for one, Kennedy has said "defense spending must be based on the security needs of the nation, not the pre-determined confines of a budget."

This statement is not unprecedented. It has come from all administrations of peacetime years. Always it has been countered by the argument that the shape of the military is of necessity patterned to that of the budget.

OVERSEAS DEPENDENTS

One of the first things that Kennedy may have to do is tackle the question of service dependents overseas.

The Eisenhower administration, seeking to arrest the dollar drain, decided that the number of families of servicemen living abroad should be halved. Angry objections came swiftly. It was contended morale was threatened, that military personnel might leave service by the thousands.

The outgoing administration retreated a little, softened some of the measure. The new administration

WALL STREET FINDS PROFIT PICKING UP

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street is finding plenty of good news among the bad these days as the profit reports roll in.

The big drop in profit margins that depressed the stock market six months ago seems to have been halted. Fourth-quarter earnings mostly held at third-quarter levels, and many companies say they expect the first three months of 1961 to show the same leveling trend.

Corporations announcing profit gains in 1960 over 1959 outnumber by a slim margin those reporting declines.

OTHER ADVANCES

And in the reports Wall Street is finding still further proof of how uneven the business slowdown has been—many industries trudging steadily upward as others lagged. And also showing up is further evidence of a greater role for service industries, which mostly are advancing while the manufacturing ones often are ailing.

Among the first 118 nonfinancial corporations to report on their fiscal 1960 earnings, 64 show gains over the previous year and 54 report declines.

The banks and other financial institutions mostly report record or near record earnings. The railroads, however, are trailing badly. The utilities are expected to show modest gains when their full year reports are in. The one giant to report so far, American Telephone & Telegraph, shows an increase of 9.5 per cent in the 12 months ending Nov. 30.

The reports are getting special scrutiny today, not only by the stock market but also by government agencies trying to gauge their tax collections, and by business planners looking for any clue as to 1961 prospects.

Wall Street is taking comfort from the many corporations who have braked the slide in profit margins, which was sharp in the spring and early summer. Many firms have been able to cut costs, such as inventory carrying charges. Others have pushed the more popular products or services in their diversified activities.

PICKUP EXPECTED
And in spite of some dire predictions about the months ahead, more business executives are saying that they expect a pickup in new orders soon, with output gains to follow, and also better profits.

But they admit that in the current three months, profits may be level with the end of 1960 but still look bad against the many records set early in that year.

Adding it up, if business is slower today than many felt, the net results are still pretty encouraging.

Ernest Hemingway To Be Released

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Famed author Ernest Hemingway is slated for release from the Mayo Clinic here within the next two weeks after undergoing medical treatment since Nov. 30.

A clinic spokesman said neither Hemingway nor his wife, who accompanied him, would permit disclosure of the nature of his illness. It was emphasized that no surgery was involved.

3-Year-Old Killed By Garbage Truck

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — A child was killed by a garbage collection truck at a trailer court near Carlisle Springs Tuesday.

The driver, Nicholas Hill, Carlisle R. 2, said he was watching another child and did not see the victim, Judith Denise Karstetter, 3. The child's mother, Mrs. Bonnie Cox Karstetter, said she had screamed out a window just as the truck began to move but her daughter was run over.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Neutral Sweden will build six new long-range submarines and spend $10.4 million on guided missiles in 1961-62 under a record $3.3-billion budget submitted Wednesday to Parliament.

VIENNA (AP) — A single policeman only is on duty these days at the Austrian Chancellery and he is there to regulate traffic. Chancellor Julius Raab ordered other guards removed to save money.

SAYS OBESITY NOT GOOD FOR NORMAL HEART

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Medical experts comment on obesity, strawberry birth marks, and "substitute nerves."

RESOLUTION

For 1961, the American Heart Association urges everyone to resolve to put and keep their weight at a reasonably normal level as a way of protecting their hearts and their health.

"Overweight overworks the heart," the association says, pointing to higher mortality rates among men, and also among women to a lesser extent, who are carrying around excess pounds. Get good medical advice about what is a proper diet for you, it adds.

DISAPPEARING BIRTHMARKS
Strawberry birthmarks are fairly common, but most of them disappear with time, or become greatly improved, without any treatment, British skin specialists report.

Among 169 such birthmarks among 140 children, only 21 marks remained by the time the youngsters were eight years old.

SUBSTITUTE NERVES?
From the Soviet Union comes word of experiments in which metal electrodes are being substituted for severed lengths of nerves in dogs' legs.

Dogs in the experiments run and jump quite normally, says a Soviet writer describing research of Prof. Boris Ognev. Prof. Ognev has performed 36 operations on 30 dogs so far, removing up to two-inch lengths of the sciatic nerve, he said. Further details of how the "substitute" nerve actually works were not supplied in a Tass broadcast quoting from Nedelya, the weekly supplement of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.

WILL JUDGE 4-H STEERS TODAY AT FARM SHOW

By JACK LYNCH

HARRISBURG (AP) — Young steers so fat they can hardly walk go before the judges today in the annual 4-H baby beef club championship at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

The 127 entries, among the most pampered animals in the world, weighed a total of 131,120 pounds — some 60 tons of prime beef.

For winners and losers alike, the judging ends the good life. They go on the auction block Friday.

SELL AT $3 POUND
Grand champions usually sell for upward of $3 a pound, enough to give their young owners a good start toward a college education. The 1960 grand champion sold for $3.75 a pound.

Entries included black angus, red and white herefords and shorthorns.

Judging of lambs in the 4-H and open classes also was on today's program.

OTHER WINNERS
Thomas Daugherty of Kirkwood R. 1, Lancaster County, exhibited the grand champion hereford bull. The animal was the son of a heifer the enterprising Daugherty purchased with proceeds from the sale of his 1955 grand champion 4-H baby steer.

A number of other champions and reserve champions were named in the cattle division.

RECORD ATTENDANCE
Clear weather resulted in attendance of 170,000 — highest for the first three days of the five-day agricultural exposition — and boosted hopes for a record over-all attendance. The three-day attendance was 445,000, and the all-time show mark is 675,000, set in 1955.

The throngs — about half of them children — helped create the worst traffic snarl of the week around the mammoth Farm Show Buildings in North Harrisburg. Delays of an hour or more in reaching the show area from 20 blocks away were common.

Once in the show — with its thousands of displays and livestock pens — most persons forgot the inconvenience. Vendors reported brisk sales of novelties and food, mostly to the youngsters who got the day off from school.

HIGHLIGHTS
Highlights of the activity were the annual conventions of the Future Farmers of America and their feminine counterparts, the Future Homemakers of America.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Imagine turkey at $15.50 a pound!

That was the price paid Wednesday night — a total of $310 — for the grand champion turkey at the Pennsylvania Farm Show by the Penn-Harris Hotel here.

The hotel functions manager, Len S. Bortman, said the turkey probably would be served at a dinner for some small group.

Earl Gingrich, representing the York, firm, said the bird probably would be donated to the Childrens Home of York.

TRAVELS WORRIED REDS
He cited this country's atom-for-peace program, its support of the United Nations, his own extensive world travels which he said were so successful they were a significant factor in causing the Soviet Union to wreck last year's summit conference.

It was a recital calculated to answer Kennedy's campaign complaints that American prestige in the world has slipped seriously. Eisenhower wound up his listing of programs in the foreign policy area by saying they must go on.

"New tactics will have to be developed, of course, to meet new situations, but the underlying principles should be constant," he said.

"Our great moral and material commitments to collective security, deterrence of force, international law, negotiations that lead to self-enforcing agreements, and the economic interdependence of free nations should remain the cornerstone of a foreign policy that will ultimately bring permanent peace with justice in freedom to all mankind."

The Littlestown Jointure School Board met for the January session on Tuesday night at the high school building on Maple Ave. when President Dale W. Starry presided and announced the appointment of the following committees for 1961-62:

Building and planning, Lloyd E. Crouse, chairman; Glenn C. Bowers, George W. Strevig, Fred Hartlaub and Bernard W. Dutcher; finance, George W. Strevig, chairman; Lloyd Crouse, Glenn Bowers, Dale Starry and Joseph Carbaugh; transportation, Karl P. Bankert, chairman; Bernard Dutcher, David S. Kammerer Jr., Bernard Murren and Rex Maddox; public relations, George S. Worley, chairman; Wilbur E. Mackley, Wade H. Brown, Fred Hartlaub and Stanley Wolfe; teacher committee, Ray T. Harner, chairman; Henry E. Waltman, Clair M. Arter, Joseph Orndorff and John W. Schwartz; property and supplies, Laverne Worley, chairman; Richard A. Maitland, Bernard Hess, Clement B. Hawn and C. Aaron Rohrbach.

Lloyd Crouse reported to the board on the progress at the new junior-senior high school building being erected. One working permit was granted by the board. The treasurer's report revealed December receipts totaling $42,954.52 and expenditures totaling $43,663.07.

REPORTS PRESENTED
Frank E. Basehoar, high school principal, submitted the report of supervising principal Paul E. King, which revealed that 75 days had been taught at the close of the month of December. Teacher absences were listed and activities for the month noted as follows: Senior high Christmas dance, December 17; Christmas musical, December 21, with PTA members as guests; induction of 11 seniors into the National Honor Society with Mrs. Rachael Barley as society sponsor from the faculty; Christmas vacation before.

Ike Tells

F. Kennedy by name. But he said a new president shortly will lay before Congress proposals for shaping the future of a great land, and: "To him, every citizen, whatever his political beliefs, prayerfully extends best wishes for good health and for wisdom and success in coping with the problems that confront our nation."

SENT TO CONGRESS
The message, in contrast with Eisenhower's usual practice of delivering it in person, merely was sent to Capitol Hill to be read to the Senate and House.

Eisenhower skipped one other personal presentation, in 1956, when he was recovering from a heart attack.

While Eisenhower had a brief offering of good will to Kennedy, he nevertheless held up the record of his own administration as one worthy of building upon.

And, in effect, he challenged some of Kennedy's campaign pronouncements and some of the findings of task forces which have been advising the president-elect.

LEARNED USEFUL LESSONS
Eisenhower said that out of the sum of experiences of his eight years in office, "lessons will emerge that are useful to our nation."

Speaking in broad terms of these eight years, the President said that during the period "the United States has forged ahead under a constructive foreign policy" but the activities of the Communist movement throughout the world "have caused and are continuing to cause grave troubles."

Here at home, Eisenhower said, these have been times of careful adjustment of the economy from the artificial impetus of a hot war to constructive growth in a precarious peace.

NEW ECONOMIC VITALITY
His administration, he said, has built a new economic vitality without inflation and at the same time increased spending to keep abreast both of added international responsibilities and of the needs of a growing population with its new problems.

Echoing, in effect, a key campaign cry of Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his losing race for the White House, Eisenhower said in the field of foreign policy that since the signing of the Korean War armistice in 1953, "Americans have lived in peace in highly troubled times."

He ticked off a list of American positions and actions around the world—in the Suez crisis, the Middle East, the Far East, Berlin.

TRAVELS WORRIED REDS
He cited this country's atom-for-peace program, its support of the United Nations, his own extensive world travels which he said were so successful they were a significant factor in causing the Soviet Union to wreck last year's summit conference.

"TODAY" OPENS ITS 10TH YEAR ON FRIDAY AT 7

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—At 7 a.m. Friday morning, the "Dave Garroway Today Show" will start its 10th year as NBC's eye-opener. As it was in the beginning, it is still a picture potpourri of news, weather reports, interviews, book reviews, interspersed with gay banter and—sometimes—serious little lectures on everything from the beauty of shade trees to the dangers of nuclear warfare. VERY DIFFERENT NOW But the program today is very different from its pioneering days.

"A show is like a plant," commented Garraway. "The seed is planted and it grows and then goes through all sorts of changes and evolutions. It never stands still—and if it did become static, it would be fatal."

Garraway thinks that, at the moment, the program is in a "narrow" phase—"too many men in business suits, but we'll soon get out of this and on to something else."

SOMETHING NEW

Steel Hour, CBS' live dramatic hour, Wednesday night had something new: An electronic card sorting machine for a villain. Well, it wasn't really bad. It was just out of adjustment so that it was busily mismatching men and women who were clients of the Blake Scientific Marriage Bureau.

This was the hard core of a comedy called "The Mating Machine." The rest consisted of a lot of complicated misunderstandings. There wasn't much comedy involved and no surprises.

Recommended tonight: Family Classics, CBS, 7:30-8:30 Eastern Standard Time—first of a two-part adaptation of "Vanity Fair," with Diane Cilento; "The Witness," CBS, 9-10—Notorious Ma Barker, played by Joan Blondell.

LEOPOLD ASKS PAROLE CUT; WANTS TO WED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Nathan Leopold, sentenced to life plus 99 years in prison for a 1924 "thrill slaying" that stunned the nation, has asked that his parole period be cut to permit him to marry and to become a teacher.

Leopold served 33 years before his sentence was commuted. He was given a five-year parole term when released from Stateville Prison, Joliet, in March 1958.

Charles F. Kinney, chairman of the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board, said Leopold and his attorney, Elmer Gertz of Chicago, as well as several persons in Puerto Rico, have asked the board to reduce the parole period to three years.

Leopold was paroled to work as a hospital technician in Puerto Rico and subsequently undertook graduate study in social work at the University of Puerto Rico.

Should the request be granted, his parole would end in March. Kinney said Leopold wants to become a medical social worker and also to teach at the University of Puerto Rico. Under Puerto Rican law, a parolee can do neither.

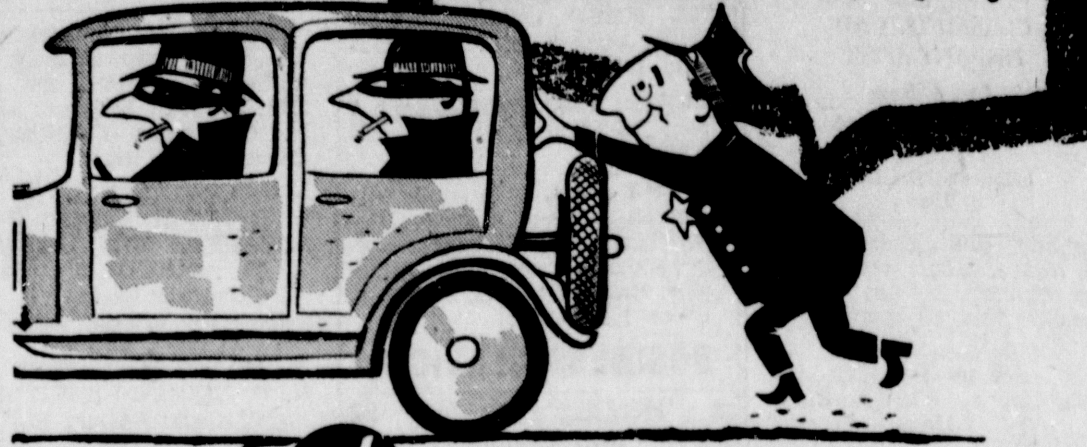

Leopold also wants to marry a widow in Puerto Rico, Kinney said. As a parolee, he could obtain permission to wed from Illinois authorities, but the request was included with the plea for a shortened parole period.

Kinney said the board may express an opinion on Leopold's request when it meets next week and may set a date for a formal hearing.

Leopold and Richard Loeb, gifted children of wealthy Chicagoans, were convicted of the slaying of young Bobby Franks. Loeb was killed in prison by another inmate.

Former Gov. John S. Fine Indicted For Tax Evasion

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—John S. Fine, former governor of Pennsylvania who attracted national attention during the 1952 Republican National Convention, was indicted Tuesday by a federal grand jury on charges of evading $45,554 in income taxes after he left office.

The 67-year-old former governor and his brother-in-law, Donald P. Morgan, were charged in a three-count indictment with "willfully and knowingly" attempting to evade "a large part of the income tax due and owing by John S. Fine" for the years 1955 through 1957.

Fine and his brother-in-law are accused of trying to evade the taxes by filing "a false and fraudulent income tax return" for Fine's taxable income for each of the three years.

HAS PRACTICED LAW

Fine, a Republican, has practiced law since leaving office in January, 1955. He lives in Loyallville, Luzerne County, and owns a milk-cattle raising farm in the northeastern Pennsylvania community.

Morgan, of Dallas R. 2, was described by U. S. Atty. Daniel H. Jenkins as manager of Fine's 200-acre farm.

Jenkins, who presented the tax case to the grand jury in the U. S. Middle District Court here, said Morgan drew up the income tax figures and submitted them to Fine. The figures, Jenkins said, then were turned over to an accountant to make out the returns.

NO COMMENT

There was no immediate comment from Fine or Morgan.

The indictment, handed up to U. S. Judge John W. Murphy, charges that Fine had income totaling $175,237 for the three years and owed taxes amounting to $88,554. It alleges Fine reported an income of $105,088 and paid taxes of $43,000.

At the Republican national convention in 1952 Fine was being wooed by political leaders seeking support for their candidate. He headed the powerful 70-member Pennsylvania delegation.

Fine wanted to see General Douglas MacArthur get the nomination. But as the Eisenhower bandwagon gathered steam and went by the Pennsylvania delegation, Fine ran to the platform and, before millions of television viewers, shouted: "We had a deal... We had a deal..."

HAD AN AGREEMENT

He claimed he had an agreement with convention leaders to suspend the roll call so the Pennsylvania delegation could vote for Eisenhower, who won the presidency. Some observers felt that at this moment his political influence began to go downhill.

Fine, whose career includes more than 25 years in state service, was entitled to full retirement benefits amounting to $1,000 a month but he accepted only a $468 monthly pension to provide for continued payments to his two young sons in case he died.

Fine's late wife, Helene, died in 1951, the year he began his term as the 100th governor of Pennsylvania.

CENTER OF CONTROVERSY

During his term, he was a center of controversy. One of his most controversial acts, which was opposed by his own party, was his proposal of a one-half of one per cent income tax. He gave up the idea in 1953. A one per cent sales tax was enacted by the Legislature.

Fine was at odds with the Republican Party when he left office in 1955. He lost control of the Republican organization in his home county of Luzerne in 1956.

Fine had served slightly less than three years as a Pennsylvania Superior Court judge before being elected governor in 1950. Prior to joining Superior Court, he was a judge of the Luzerne County Court in Wilkes-Barre for 18 years.

SUCCEEDED DUFF

He succeeded James H. Duff, also a Republican and personal friend who appointed him to Superior Court, as governor. Duff was elected to the U. S. Senate. George M. Leader, a Democrat, followed Fine as governor. Leader was succeeded by David L. Lawrence, also a Democrat, the present governor.

Fine was born in the coal mining village of Alden, one of 11 children. His father was actively interested in politics.

After graduation from the Dickinson Law School in Carlisle, Fine opened a law office in Nanticoke in 1915. Later he served a tour in the Army.

DEFEATED DILWORTH

In 1921 he became actively engaged in politics when he was appointed Republican chairman of Luzerne County. In 1927 he became a Luzerne County Common Pleas Court judge.

Fine was appointed to the State Superior Court in 1947 but he resigned in March, 1950, to run for governor. He defeated Richardson Dilworth, a Democrat and now mayor of Philadelphia, in the general election.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Sekou Toure, leftist president of Guinea, today continued a tour of Communist East Europe. After six days with President Tito, he flew to Sofia, capital of Bulgaria.

WAISTLINES TO REAPPEAR IN SPRINGTIME

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—In the predictable way of prodigals, the wandering waistline has come home again.

For spring a notable number of New York designers have put the waist back where nature always has thought it belonged. They've indented and shaped and nipped—for greater emphasis.

But that formality over with, they seem to have turned their attention from form to fabric.

NEW FABRICS

In the second afternoon of press week, more than 200 visiting fashion reporters Tuesday saw spring collections of the New York couture group feature fitted waists in new fabrics and new fabric combinations.

The fabrics seemed practical and highly wearable too, unlike some of last season's materials that had you gasping—first at their fabulous opulence, then about where you'd wear them.

The pet of Arthur Jablow and his designer David Kidd was a domestic silk and wool fabric with a slight sheen, and reputedly pretty indestructible called mergino (soft G). It was shown in a series of handsome suits and jacket and dress ensembles, in charcoal, castor (a brown shade) and black.

SKIRTS SLIM

Jackets came in varying lengths with the cropped jackets hitting just below the waist but standing away from the body. Blouses and bodices were colorful prints to contrast or match the solid colored skirts and asexuals.

The Jablow skirts were slim, but cleverly engineered darts and pleats around the waist lent a rhythmic ease to walking. They reached below the knee, too. Unlike some of his couture confreres, Jablow finds an exposed kneecap unfashionable.

The Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection also made much of fabrics, especially in playing one against another in the same dress: crepe in front and pure silk taffeta in back, for example. In a black and white plaid worsted ensemble, the dress' waist tie and jacket lining were lilac silk.

Jo Copeland likes skirts slim, but with movement. She likes jackets for spring not to have a closing, especially, she says, when the dress underneath is too pretty to hide.

OSLO (AP)—Thomas Fearnley, 81, a leading Norwegian shipowner, died Tuesday.

"Music Man" Musical Will Soon Be Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those famous trombones are coming to the screen, all 76 of them, with 110 cornets close at hand.

They'll be followed by rows and rows of the finest virtuosos and "Music Man" Robert Preston, too. The vastly popular musical is reaching the shooting stage at Warner Brothers, where plans are in the capable hands of Morton Da Costa.

He is the man who transformed the Meredith Willson saga of early-day Iowa into a stage hit, and he will be directing the picture, too. A plain-spoken man with a mop of rust-colored hair and a face full of freckles, he gave report on the film project.

NO LONG PICTURE

"It won't be one of those terribly long pictures," he said. "It will run around 2½ hours, which is enough. After all, most Broadway shows run only 2½ hours, including an intermission. You can't hold an audience's attention much longer."

"The film version will follow the same line of the play, though it will be opened up. There were a lot of things I couldn't do on the stage because of limitations of space and time. When Bob sings '76 Trombones,' we'll take it out of the school gymnasium and into the street. Likewise, the final chase can be done all over town."

This may come as a blow to Iowa pride, but the entire film will be shot in Burbank. (California is an Iowa colony, anyway.)

HAVE GOOD TOWN SET

"I thought of shooting it back there, but it would be impossible to duplicate the 1912 flavor," said Da Costa.

"It happens that Warner's has a very good Midwestern town set. With 90 days of shooting and many intricate numbers, I'd rather be close to the studio's facilities."

To nearly everyone's delight, Bob Preston will be repeating as Harold Hill. But he was no shoo-in for the film role.

"We had a lot of big stars who wanted to do it—Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, etc.," the director said. "The studio was inclined to sign a bigger name than Bob. But I held out for him. This is a role that you had to feel in your stomach, that you'd have to play at least four weeks on the stage before you could really do it."

Quarterback Sandy Stephens of Minnesota intercepted four passes during the Big Ten season. He returned them 114 yards.

STATE POLICE PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Maj. Harold T. Newman, District 3 commander, has been named state police field commander by Commissioner Frank G. McCartney.

Newman succeeds Maj. Frank Garrow, who retired last month, in the post, third-ranking in the state police chain of command.

Also picked from the District 3 command for a key post was Capt. Wilbur M. Smith, Wyoming troop commander. Smith was promoted to major and assigned charge of District 2, headquartered at Harrisburg. Smith succeeds Maj. Thomas Cahalan, who retired last month.

SHULLER A CAPTAIN

Capt. Paul V. Ryan, commander at the Blakely Barracks, was promoted to major and named to succeed Newman as District 3 commander at Wyoming. Lt. Edward P. Bouse, now at Hazleton, was promoted to captain and assigned in charge of the Wyoming troop, succeeding Smith.

Capt. Vincent R. Scelere, troop commander at Hazleton, was ordered to Blakely to succeed Ryan. Lt. Albert H. Shuller, now with the Pennsylvania Turnpike detail, was elevated to captain and sent to succeed Scelere at Hazleton. Lt. Charles S. Graef, who served as a bodyguard for three governors prior to Gov. Lawrence, was transferred from his present assignment at Philadelphia to Hazleton.

AT HEADQUARTERS

At regimental headquarters in Harrisburg two commissioned officer promotions were announced. Lt. John H. Klinger, personnel director for the department, was promoted to captain. Sgt. Philip M. Conti, executive and administrative bureau, was promoted to lieutenant.

Sgt. Charles J. Buchinsky, traffic sergeant at Troop A, Harrisburg, was promoted to lieutenant and assigned on detached service to the State Police Academy, Hershey.

CHURCHMAN DIES

READING, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services for the Rev. Elmer L. Leisey, 68, of Ephrata R. 2, widely known retired Lutheran rural pastor, will be held Saturday in Trinity Lutheran Church, Ephrata.

Dr. Leisey died in Reading Hospital Tuesday. He had served pastorates at Numidia, Columbia County; New Holland, Danville, Womelsdorf and Robesonia. He retired in 1957.

AP Newsman In Two-Car Accident

READING, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Snyder, Associated Press chief of bureau for Pennsylvania and Delaware, suffered head cuts, bruises and a possible eye injury Tuesday in a two-car collision on Route 122 near here.

Snyder was held in the Reading Hospital overnight for observation.

The driver of the other car, Mrs. Meta Bauer, 54, of Wyomissing, and her passenger, Edith Boyer, 59, of Reading, were treated and released. Both suffered head cuts. Mrs. Bauer also suffered a broken toe.

State Trooper George Balsai said Mrs. Bauer's auto skidded on a slight curve and went broadside into Snyder's auto.

Snyder, of Drexel Hill, was starting a five-day business trip.

IKE TAKES GOP OFF THE SPOT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has taken congressional Republicans off a political spot by agreeing to be their principal—and only—speaker at a June party fund-raising dinner.

Eisenhower's scheduled appearance at an affair honoring all Republican members of Congress probably will mark his first political task after he leaves the White House next week.

When they shifted their dinner date from May to June to suit the retiring president's convenience and got his agreement to speak, congressional sponsors breathed a sigh of relief.

NO SPECIAL INVITES

They had a star attraction without having to choose between any of the potential 1964 contenders for the party's presidential nomination.

Although they are welcome to attend if they want to, sponsors said they are not issuing special invitations to retiring Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a third possible contender, is one of the sponsors of the meeting as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

TOKYO (AP)—Seventeen Japanese whose ship almost killed John F. Kennedy in 1943 gather here this weekend to draft a cable congratulating him on his inauguration Jan. 20 as U.S. president.

They are the survivors of the Amagiri, the Japanese destroyer that rammed and sank Kennedy's torpedo boat in the Solomons. Kennedy received a severe back injury but swam to safety.

NEW YORK (AP) — President

Maurice Podoloff of the National Basketball Association says he acted alone in rejecting Jack Molinas' application for reinstatement as a player in pro basketball's top league. "Many persons outside the league wrote me asking that Molinas be allowed to play because he is a suitable player," Podoloff testified Monday at trial in federal court of Molinas' suit for reinstatement and $3 million in damages. "I threw him out because he wasn't." Molinas, former Columbia star, was suspended for life from the NBA after he admitted betting on his own team — then the Fort Wayne Pistons—to win games in November and December of 1953.

Now a member of the New York Bar Association and player-coach and top scorer for Hazleton, Pa., in the Eastern League, Molinas claims the lifetime ban was excessive. The action to which Podoloff referred followed Braun.

Molinas' application for reinstatement in 1958. Other testimony was heard from former Coach Fuzzy Levane of the New York Knickerbockers and current Knick Coach Carl Braun.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert S. McNamara, while serving as secretary of defense, plans to put the money received from sale of his Ford Motor Co. stock into a trust fund. McNamara, Ford president before he agreed to serve in President-elect John F. Kennedy's cabinet, received more than $1.5 million for sale of 24,705 shares of Ford stock.

Kennedy Influence Gets Theater Tickets For Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes even a president-elect of the United States has trouble getting tickets for a Broadway musical playing to standing-room only.

John F. Kennedy had such trouble Monday night. But when the curtain went up, there he was in an aisle seat in the fourth row.

Monday evening, while flying in from Boston, Kennedy decided he would like to go to see the hit musical, "Do Re Mi."

Kennedy told his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, to try to line up two tickets. He wanted the second ticket for an old friend traveling with him, Grant Stockdale, a Miami, Fla., real estate man. When the Kennedy plane landed about an hour and a quarter before curtain time, Salinger hustled to a waiting automobile equipped with three mobile telephone circuits. He placed a call to the St. James box office. He explained he was Kennedy's press secretary and that the president-elect would like two tickets. The box office concluded he was a practical joker and told him: "So sorry. We're completely sold out."

NEWSMEN MAKE EFFORT
Newsmen with Salinger started calling their offices asking that strings be pulled to get Kennedy two tickets.

Salinger made other calls, looking for strings to pull.

One of the mobile phones in Salinger's car rang. It was word that someone had reached some one high up at the St. James Theater and would the president elect please forgive and forget and come to the musical. Seats? No problem whatever. The good word was passed to Kennedy as he and Stockdale got out of their car for a hasty dinner at Club 21.

"At the theater a bit later, Kennedy and his guest were ushered to down front seats and the president-elect got an ovation as he walked down the aisle."

So how did Kennedy get choice seats?

WOMEN GIVEN UP SEATS

A theater official went to two young women who had fourth row aisle seats, told them the management's troubles and asked if they would mind giving up their seats to the president-elect in exchange for less desirable ones.

The young women turned out to be Kennedy fans and gladly swapped seats. The theater official told newsmen he neglected to get their names.

The price of the Kennedy tickets? Don't be silly, the management said. No charge.

DAY DREAMING IS NORMAL FOR MOST PEOPLE

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Does the world sometimes seem too big for you?

Well, it is. Do you sometimes feel small, futile and lost—an overwhelmed human zero in an inhuman wilderness called civilization?

Well, you probably are. But cheer up. Every normal person feels that way part of the time. But there is no need to feel like that all the time.

ANY TIME OF DAY
There is a way out. Become a day dreamer—at whatever time of day you need it most.

Some people sneer at day dreamers as impractical. They are usually unimaginative people who had only one dream in their lives. They put this dream into harness and beat it with a whip until it got them what they wanted out of living.

Then they discover that wasn't really all they wanted from life after all. So they lose their faith in dreams of any kind. In their own frustration they try to knock down everybody else's dreams. Such people are knotheads.

OPERATING IN FANTASY

There are two types of day dreamers, and it is essential that you become the right one.

The boss walks by your desk and says, "Hello." If you automatically wonder, "What did he mean by that—is he going to fire me?" you are a fearful day dreamer. This is the wrong kind. You will dwell only in dreams of dread, and nothing is more pitiful.

But if the boss says "Hello" to you, and you immediately begin to figure what changes you'll make in company policy when he takes you in as partner, you are on the right track. You are a constructive day dreamer. Dreams give you security and hope, and that's what dreams are for.

Here is how the successful day dreamer operates in fantasy:

He sips a glass of cheap red wine in a cheap restaurant, and at once becomes a Paris boulevardier dawdling over champagne.

He may be only a clerk, but if they put two telephones on his desk to answer, he assumes in his head the role of Wall Street tycoon.

He bets $2 on the long-shot in the first race at the track, and plans to parlay his winnings by betting them on every other long-shot of the day. Sometime, somewhere, every long-shot will come in first, and if this should be the right track and the right day he will go home a multimillionaire.

CAN BE ANYBODY
The great virtue of day dreaming is that you can be anybody, go anywhere, do anything—but escape any responsibility for your decisions or actions. You make of life a game—a pretense guiltless of hypocrisy.

There is only one danger. The day dreamer knows true happiness only if he doesn't try to translate his impossible dreams into deeds. That way lies disaster. It is all right for a mouse to day dream that it is a dinosaur only so long as it doesn't try to attack a cat.

Sues Grocers To Get Contest Money

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—In April 1959, Mrs. Althea S. T. Finch of Cranston, R.I., won two Transocean Airlines tickets to Hawaii as a door prize at the Rhode Island Grocers Association Convention.

A death in the family and later illness postponed the trip so long Mrs. Finch finally sold the tickets for $500 to a friend, who found Transocean had gone out of business. Mrs. Finch returned the $500 and sued the grocers association. Judge Fred B. Perkins Monday awarded her $883.68, the fair market value of the flight plus $44.08.

Elect Five Lawmen For Zone Positions

HARRISBURG (AP)—Election of five new zone representatives were announced Tuesday by the Pennsylvania Bar Association. The representatives will take office at the close of the association's annual meeting at Philadelphia, Jan. 26-28. They serve for two years and automatically become members of the Board of Governors.

The representatives include: Gene D. Smith, Allentown; Malcolm Muir, Williamsport; Thomas N. Griggs, Pittsburgh; Randolph Myers, Ebensburg and J. Quint Salmon, Beaver.

TO RECEIVE BIDS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Bids will be received Jan. 26 for construction of a sewage control system at Sayre, Bradford County, the Forests and Waters Department said Tuesday.

The system will be installed in flood levees along the Susquehanna River. The work involves 1,700 cubic yards of excavation and installation of 1,600 linear feet of clay pipe, 106 linear feet of eight-inch steel pipe and a pumping station.

Meanwhile, judging in most categories of livestock continued today.

PENNA. YOUTH SPOTLIGHTED AT FARM SHOW

By JACK LYNCH

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania farm youth were the center of interest at the 45th State Farm Show Wednesday.

Wednesday's activities at the mammoth agriculture exposition traditionally are given over to youth and their accomplishments. Thousands of children are given the day off from school to visit the show, which displays products of Pennsylvania's mighty farm economy in the sprawling farm show buildings in North Harrisburg.

THIS IS FFA DAY
Bluejacketed Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America—agriculture's answer to juvenile delinquency—honored fellow members for outstanding achievements in 1960.

Members of 4-H Clubs take the spotlight today in one of the most popular features of the show—judging of baby beavers raised by the youngsters. Winners of this event earn enough in the sale of their animals to finance a college education.

Meanwhile, judging in most categories of livestock continued today.

CAITIE JUDGED
Brown Swiss and Jersey cattle went before the judges in the windup inspection of animals from the state's $600-million-a-year dairy industry.

Holsteins, major producers in the dairy industry, were judged Tuesday. H. Wayne Locke, Le-masters, Franklin County, exhibited the grand champion cow and Howard B. Weiss, Meyers-town R. 2, Lebanon County, the champion Holstein bull.

In the milking Shorthorn competition, senior and grand championship honors went to Irwin H. Yoder, Shoemakersville, Berks County. Yoder also entered the grand and junior champion bull. Eli N. Landis Jr., Hamburg, showed the senior champion bull among milking Shorthorns.

ANOTHER BIG CROWD
Continued fine weather resulted in estimated attendance Tuesday of 140,000, the same as opening day Monday. The two-day total buoyed hopes of officials that an over-all attendance mark may be set by the time the show closes Friday.

Expansion of the farm show facilities—a complex of buildings, including thousands of animal pens, two arenas, a huge exhibition hall and several parking lots—is being sought again.

John B. McCool, show director, said Tuesday Gov. Lawrence has been urged to ask the legislature to approve a $3.25 million expansion program.

NOT ENOUGH ROOM
"As things stand now, we just haven't got enough room," McCool said in an interview. "Every year we have to turn people away because there just isn't enough space to go around."

Expansion plans, already drafted, would include a new three-floor building for exhibition space, another cafeteria and dormitories for youngsters participating in the exposition.

HONORS FOR YOUTH
Both the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers held their annual meetings Wednesday.

The Future Farmers honored 201 youths as "Keystone Farmers," five as "Star Regional Farmers" and David M. Litchard, 18, of Turbotville R. 1, Montour County, as the "State Star Farmer."

Roger Berringer, 17, of Cherry Tree R. 2, Indiana County, was named "Star Dairy Farmer."

"Future Homemaker Degrees," highest honor the organization can bestow, were awarded to 151 girls with outstanding records of activities.

The Future Homemakers inducted Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent of public instruction, as an honorary member. Gov. Lawrence received the day.

NBC TRIBUTE TO IKE GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The NBC news department, in a reverent mood, Tuesday night presented an hour-long program paying tribute to retiring president Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Everyone, from Ike's grade school teacher to President-elect John F. Kennedy, had glowing things to say about the soldier-statesman. It was friendly and affectionate, but the heroic—almost awe-struck—tenor of the careful prose accompanying the old news-reel clips seemed general and complimentary. Somewhere a much loved and respected human being named Eisenhower was lost.

In just one hour it was impossible to dwell on many of the high spots of his career, but NBC could have covered more ground by eliminating half of the "hero's award last year."

A colorful folk dance exhibition and contest highlighted Tuesday night's entertainment program. A horse pulling contest, long a farm show favorite, was held Wednesday.

DEWEY CANCELS

NBC is hunting around for some big name to debate the question of the West modifying its policy toward the Soviet Union on its Jan. 21 "The Nation's Future" show. Former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey was scheduled to lock horns with British Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell, but cancelled out Tuesday.

James Garner's first outside film job since the actor and his Warner Brothers bosses started legal feuding almost a year ago will be an episode of CBS' "Angel" series.

NBC's "Riverboat" is scuttled with next Monday's episode—a rebroadcast of an October show. The following week "The Americans," a Civil War adventure series, bows into the time slot.

HEADS FARM WOMEN

HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Edward Boyd of Stoystown R. 3, Somerset County, is the new president of the Pennsylvania Society of Farm Women.

She took office Tuesday at the group's annual meeting, held in conjunction with the 45th annual State Farm Show. She will serve three years, succeeding Mrs. George F. Gerberick Sr., Dover R. 4, York County.

EXPULSION OF BISHOP, FOUR PRIESTS FROM HAITI

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The expulsion of Haiti's leading Roman Catholic bishop, orders for the deportation of four other priests and closing of the church paper threaten a new crisis in President Francois Duvalier's relations with the Vatican.

The bishop was the second Catholic prelate deported in less than two months. Duvalier's government charged both were interfering in its efforts to root out Communist and pro-Castro students from the University of Haiti. But back of both cases was Duvalier's suspicion that the churchmen were friendly to his political foes.

NO FALSE TEETH

Bishop Remy Augustin, 50, apostolic administrator, was put on a plane for Puerto Rico by police Tuesday night 14 hours after he had been taken from his bed and arrested. He was not allowed to take along even his false teeth.

In San Juan, Bishop Augustin denied any connection with any anti-government group and said, "I don't know why I was arrested and deported."

The Haiti-born bishop had been running church affairs in this predominantly Catholic Negro country since November, when Archbishop Francois Poirier, 56, was deported to his native France on charges he had given a $7,000 check to aid striking university students.

The archbishop denied the charges and the Vatican protested the "grave episode."

TWO MORE GIVEN KENNEDY POSTS

NEW YORK (AP)—John Moore, vice president of the University of Pennsylvania, was named Tuesday administrator of the General Services Administration in the incoming John F. Kennedy administration.

Kennedy headquarters also announced appointment of Bernard L. Boutin of Laconia, N.H., as deputy administrator of the big government housekeeping agency.

Moore is 57, a native of Greeley, Neb., and a graduate of Villanova College in Philadelphia.

He had about 10 years government experience as a regional official of the War Production Board, the War Assets Administration and GSA before joining the University of Pennsylvania administrative staff in 1964.

Boutin was born in Belmont, N.H., in 1923. He has been in the insurance and real estate business.

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP)—Isabel Paterson, 75, a novelist and former book reviewer for the New York Herald Tribune, died of a heart ailment while visiting friends Tuesday night. She resided in Princeton. She was born on Manitoulin Island in Lake Huron, Ontario, Canada, and began writing book and theater reviews for the Vancouver Province. Mrs. Paterson started to work in the United States for the old New York World, then went to the Herald Tribune for about 25 years.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Tom P. Walker, 69, former president and chairman of the Texas-to-Brooklyn Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp., died of a heart attack Tuesday.

HAM RADIOMAN MAY HAVE BEEN CRASH CAUSE

day at a Civil Aeronautics Board inquiry into the disaster which killed 134 persons.

Edward Lowe, a CAB air safety investigator, said it was possible that an amateur radio operator working near the Colts Neck, N.J., radio navigational transmitter may have interfered with the signal. He said the CAB planned to ask the Federal Communications Commission for help in the inquiry. The Colts Neck transmitter, near Red Bank, is one of three radio stations which pilots use to establish navigational fixes at the "Preston" holding area over New Jersey. The ill-fated United Air Lines DC8 jet was supposed to circle "Preston" while waiting for instructions to land at Idlewild Airport. Instead, it shot past "Preston" at 504 m.p.h. and rammed into a Trans World Airlines four-engine Constellation, killing 128 in both planes and six on the ground in Brooklyn.

'JUST LISTEN' TO SAVE WORLD, PRODUCERS SAY

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Film producer Joe Pasternak has launched an open-ear campaign to save mankind.

"If people would just listen," he said, "think how much better the world would be! It could be a wonderful world."

"But nobody listens any more."

"In our vocabulary there is a period at the end of a sentence. But who listens until anybody finishes a sentence? Nobody. We don't hear each other any more."

NO ENGLISH

Pasternak, who is quite serious about his open-ear crusade, came here in 1921 as an immigrant youth from Hungary. He had a high school education, but knew no English.

His uncle, a factory worker, met him at Ellis Island and said: "You should have come 20 years ago. There was opportunity then. Now it is gone."

"He was a fine man," said Joe. "But he was wrong. Opportunity is always here—if you know what you want to do, and love to do it."

FAILED AS ACTOR

Starting as a busboy in a studio commissary, Pasternak tried to be an actor and failed. He then worked his way up from a fourth assistant director to become one of the world's top producers.

"I got good advice—and I listened to it," he said.

In 25 years his 75 films have grossed a quarter of a billion dollars.

Joe is a genial, sandy-haired, blue-eyed little man whose own struggle has left him with a deep sympathy for the underdog.

He embarked on his favorite theme—the price of not listening—at lunch when a waiter brought him boiled fish instead of the broiled fish he had ordered.

"He didn't listen," remarked Joe sorrowfully. "Nobody takes the time simply to listen."

"You go to a cocktail party and nobody waits to hear the punchline of a story. They are trying to think up one to top it even before it is told."

BETTER WORLD

"Think how much better the business world would be if employees would really listen to bosses, and if bosses would really listen to their employees."

"Think how much better family life would be if children would only listen to their parents, and parents would listen to their own children."

"We don't listen to our doctors, our dentists, our lawyers, our teachers, our religious leaders. Worst of all, we don't even listen any longer to our own conscience."

OPEN EARS

"I don't mean we should be yes-men or puppets, but we should open our ears and at least listen until the other person finishes his sentence."

"Thank God, my wife listened to me when I proposed. I love you, and I want to marry you," I told her. If she hadn't let me finish the sentence, if she had interrupted me—well, I wouldn't have three children now."

Joe looked at the boiled fish on his plate, took a bite, and sighed. "Period!" he said. "Thanks for listening."

AAA FAVORING GAS TAX JUMP IF IT'S NEEDED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Federation (AAA) says it will support increased taxes on motorists if the need demands the extra money.

"Historically AAA members have advocated and fought for better roads and have been willing to pay for them," C. E. Pugh, general manager, said in a statement.

"If the governor's program shows definite need for more money and inability to meet the need with present levies, a willingness to assign every cent of the new levies to the highways department, and an intention to use the money within the budget period and assess the increases on a temporary basis for that period, the AAA-Pennsylvania Motor Federation would lend its support to such proposals."

MARTIN NEEDS MONEY

Gov. Lawrence has been reported planning to ask for a two-cent increase in the five-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax when he submits the highways fund budget to the legislature next Monday.

The governor and his aides, however, have refused to comment on the reports.

Highways Secretary Park H. Martin estimated he will need at least $52 million in new taxes this year for his construction program. A two-cent increase would yield an estimated $68 million annually.

"PAYING PLENTY"

While the Motor Federation was giving its qualified endorsement to tax increases, the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania was critical of such an idea.

Gasoline now is "the most heavily taxed useful item on the family shopping list," commented W. F. Richardson, executive secretary. State motorists, he added, already are paying "full and plenty in special automotive taxes, both state and federal."

Jason, seeking the Golden Fleece in the good ship Argo, may have been looking for a region where gold dust was obtained by snaring it from water with sheep's wool.

COOPER LASTS LONGER THAN OTHER STARS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What has made Gary Cooper outlast all other movie stars?

A lot of famous names grappled with that question this week with only fair results. The occasion was the Friars' Club annual money-raising banquet. This year the funnymen chose to honor not one of their own but durable, unchanging Cooper.

It was a good idea. Too often Hollywood waits until the obits to pay tribute to its greats.

RANGING TRIBUTES

The tributes ranged from the awful to the eloquent. In the former class was a parody sung by Tony Martin. "The most beautiful man in the world." In the latter were Carl Sandburg's words about Cooper: "A tradition while he's living."

Andrew Hepburn tried verse: "A Gary Cooper is very rare—there is only one—and there will never be another—under the sun." Sam Goldwyn observed. "Gary doesn't say very much, but what he says makes a helluva lot of sense."

Others played with the star's "yup"ism. Said Henry Ford II: "He was in talking pictures five years before anyone realized he could talk."

NOVOCAIN LIPS

monologue called him "Randolph Scott with novocain lips." Jack Benny, George Jessel, George Burns, Art Linkletter and Jack Warner also played the comic theme with mixed results.

Cooper observed that since his start in films 35 years ago "a lot of celluloid has flowed under the bridge—and a lot of it is showing up on the late, late show."

Then he told the crowd at the Beverly Hilton International Ballroom: "I want to thank each and every one of you for coming here tonight. Never has so much fuss been made by so many over so little. The only achievement I am really proud of is the friends I have made in the community."

ELECT DIRECTORS

The Birnie Trust Company, Taneytown, elected directors and officers at the annual stockholders meeting Monday. Directors elected for 1961 were James C. Baumgardner, Calvin W. Binkley, Thomas L. Devillbiss, Merwyn C. Fuss, Harry H. Haines, George L. Harner, Robert S. McVaugh, Harry M. Mohney and James C. Myers.

Officers elected were: President, Merwyn C. Fuss; vice president, George L. Harner; cashier, secretary, Charles R. Arnold; assistant cashier, Murray M. Baumgardner; assistant cashier, Mrs. Emma L. Devillbiss; branch manager, Grace A. Smelser; teller, Donald R. Lawyer; teller, Anne C. Breth; bookkeeper, Donna L. Eyer; and teller and bookkeeper, Ethel Ray Willet.

The world famous Pocono Mountains derived their names from one of two Indian expressions: "pocohanne," meaning a stream between two mountains, or "Pahaqualing," the Indian name for Delaware Water Gap, meaning "a mountain with a hole in it."

HERE AND THERE

No series of stories about dogs would be complete without one on the "Gentleman from Dalmatia." He has so many good points that in listing them you are almost certain to run out of adjectives. The origin of the Dalmatian, as with scores of other breeds of canines, is a subject to be debated far into the night wherever dog enthusiasts gather. Most authorities agree that the Adriatic coastal province of Dalmatia, from which the breed's name was derived, is the most logical "first home" of the handsome fellow.

Arriving in England some time prior to 1800, the Dalmatian soon adapted himself to his traditional role as a "Coach Dog." It seemed as though this alert animal and the horse were made for each other! On countless English estates, the Dalmatians were ever-present around the stables and as the fine horse-drawn carriages or coaches rumbled across the British countryside, these dogs, gracefully running alongside or underneath, presented a gay and thrilling picture. Americans, of course, think of the Dalmatian less as a coacher and more as a "fireman." His heyday as a firehouse mascot was when horses still pulled the rigs; yet, the Dal apparently doesn't miss old Dobbin too much. Mechanization of firefighting equipment simply means that, instead of running, he rides on the massive fire trucks to the scene of the blaze. And many of you have doubtless seen a certain nationally-known Dalmatian.

A famous midwestern business concern maintains a bright red circus-like delivery wagon pulled by a four-team span of magnificent Clydesdale horses for advertising purposes. Traveling from city to city, this dramatic vehicle and its elegant steeds win the attention of thousands of spectators along the route of travel. But the "scene-stealer" is the aristocratic Dalmatian which invariably rides high on the drivers' seat!

A truly versatile dog, the Dalmatian has seen service as a war sentinel, sheep herder, retriever, boar hunter and tracker in addition to his coaching duties. In his modern role as a companion dog, however, he seems to have reached dogdom's pinnacle of achievement. In general appearance he is in a class by himself, for no other breed looks "just like" the Dalmatian. He is more or less medium in size, being 19 to 23 inches high and weighing from 35 to 50 pounds. His spotted white coat is short and hard and he makes it a point to keep it clean and sleek.

The Dal would not appear to be among the "most popular breeds, especially when you think in terms of cocker spaniels, collies, beagles, dachshits and boxers; nevertheless it does rank with the favorites according to AKC registrations. And as one views the mushrooming American "Suburbia" it is logical to predict a sharp rise in the Dalmatian population within the next few years, for crowded city areas definitely are not the ideal habitat for the spotted one.

If you are an admirer of courage, devotion, good manners, beauty, intelligence, obedience, alertness, dependability and numerous other friend-winning characteristics, you cannot go wrong in selecting the happy Dalmatian for your canine companion. His keen sense of loyalty to his master and to other members of the family never allows him to become too familiar with strangers. He will be polite to friendly visitors, but woe unto him who means to do harm to his owner's property or person!

As if the numerous virtues that have been here listed were not enough, this sterling animal is extremely neat, hardy and easy to keep and train. He's almost too good to be true—this "Handsome Gentleman from Dalmatia!"

Ten of Pennsylvania's 67 counties have Indian names: Wyoming, Lackawanna, Juniata, Lehigh, Tioga, Venango, Lycoming, Allegheny, Erie and Susquehanna. The last named is often considered the most beautiful word in the English language.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—It's making recommendations.

President-elect John F. Kennedy, during the campaign and after his election, wanted ideas on how to do better for the government and the people. He wanted them before he was sworn in Jan. 20.

So he appointed study groups which went under various names—task force, committee, study panel—to look into the problems assigned them and come up with proposals.

They're coming in now: recommendations which range from reorganizing the Defense Department to sending a peace corps of young Americans to newly independent Asian and African countries as technicians.

BIG ADVANTAGE

This is a big advantage for Kennedy. It gives him a head start in putting together programs he can submit to Congress in a hurry.

President Eisenhower was prodigious in creating commissions but he waited until he moved into the White House. The long delay in making some of the studies simply delayed action on the problems. The last Eisenhower commission—on national goals—reported Dec. 1.

Right now in Washington 2,500 people from all over the country are taking part in a conference on the problems of aging. Congress wanted this one and Eisenhower had to call it.

HASH NO SURPRISE

When there's a conference this size on any problem there should be no surprise if the result is hash.

The unknown quantity about the recommendations being given Kennedy is what he will do with them when he gets into the White House.

For instance: A committee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., was the first group to report and called for a reorganization of the Defense Department.

KNOW PENTAGON

Symington, under President Truman, had been secretary of the air force and knows the inner workings of the Pentagon. But Kennedy was careful not to give the Symington report a hearty endorsement.

KE'S CAREER IS TRACED IN TV TRIBUTE

NEW YORK (AP)—They honored Dwight D. Eisenhower Tuesday night in a tribute that traced the story of his life from prairie boyhood to the White House. The President, who leaves office Jan. 20, was hailed as a "great man," "man of peace" and a "patriot" by various world leaders.

President-elect John F. Kennedy paid tribute to "the grace and the courtesy with which power has been moved from the Eisenhower administration to the new Democratic administration."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon on said Eisenhower had been a great president.

NOTABLE SPEAKERS

The occasion was a special NBC television program, "Tribute to a Patriot." The taped program consisted of still photographs, films, tape recordings and interviews with boyhood pals, colleagues and statesmen. It was moderated by actor James Stewart.

Besides Kennedy and Nixon, speakers included British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The vice president, originally had declined to appear on the program, saying he was previously committed. He also said that he wished to stay off television in deference to Kennedy.

WEST SQUAD IS FAVORED BY 1

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West team is a one-point choice over the East for Sunday's pro bowl. It's the shortest spread for the West in years.

Ordinarily, the team representing the Western Conference of the National Football League reates a three to seven-point edge over the Eastern Conference representative.

The West has responded by winning 6 of the first 10 pro bowl games.

The game this year features two fine quarterbacks — Johnny Unitas of Baltimore for the West and Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia for the East.

Baltimore's running attack collapsed late last season and with-

Alan Ameche out, defensive units against the Colts were able to contain Lenny Moore on sweeps and gang up on Unitas and his receivers when he took to the air. Unitas will have adequate ground power Sunday—and a top-notch fullback in Jim Taylor of Green Bay.

Van Brocklin passed Philadelphia to the NFL title and the Eagles won nine games in a row after losing the season opener.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dashiell Hammett, 66, a private eye who founded the hard-boiled, wise-cracking school of American detective fiction, died Tuesday of a lung ailment. He had been ill for four years. His best known works were "The Maltese Falcon" and "The Thin Man," written in the early 1930s. Hammett's varied career included eight years as a detective for the Pinkerton agency.

Loss Of Gold And Report Of Dollar Devaluation To Be Big Kennedy Problems

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) There seems sure to be a tint of gold in President Eisenhower's last State of the Union message Thursday and in his final budget next Monday.

The problems of the loss of gold and its running mate, confidence in the U.S. dollar, haven't gone away just because prices for the metal on the London free market simmered down after October's spectacular flurry.

The gold outflow continues, despite U.S. Treasury steps to stabilize its world price and calm fears about the dollar's status.

The basic causes for the outflow in gold will show up in the new budget — in the overseas spending asked for defense and aid of other nations, in any policy announced toward U.S. private investment abroad, and in the probable chances of getting a balance in federal outgo and income which would further bolster confidence in the dollar.

OTHER CAUSES

Other causes, outside our direct control, will remain in maneuverings abroad. These include the desire of private hoarders to buy the metal as a hedge against the still rumored and vigorously denied devaluation of the U.S. dollar, and even the game the Soviet Union may be playing with its own big supply of gold overhanging the market.

The Soviets can keep the supply of gold on the free market smaller by withholding sales of their gold. They usually sell gold to meet their own trading deficits with Western nations. When they don't sell gold they help to keep the gold supply thin, and this means the price can be bid up easily when private hoarders around the world want it enough.

COULD DUMP GOLD

Or the Soviet Union could dump gold on the market and disrupt it for the time being by undercutting prices — although this would help the U.S. Treasury by drying up demand for its metal held at the official price of $35 an ounce.

Reports from European financial markets indicate the Soviets haven't been doing anything about gold for three months. And one of the things the international financial markets is watching, and probably the U.S. Treasury also, is what the Soviet Union is doing or seems likely to do.

The three-year deficit and the accompanying loss of gold has given rise in some foreign quarters to beliefs that the United States eventually may have to devalue the dollar—that is, make it worth less in gold by hiking the price of gold. Those believing this have bought gold for their private hoards.

NO DOLLAR DEVALUATION

Both the old and the incoming U.S. administrations say devaluation isn't even being considered. But both agree that something must be done to cut the annual dollar-payment deficits.

One way is to increase our exports—but these now are running ahead of imports by around $5 billion a year. Another is to cut spending abroad for foreign aid and on military and diplomatic spending. We have another task force in West Germany asking it to help shoulder some of this load.

The upcoming presidential message may give clues as to how we are faring and what more we hope to do in balancing our payments with the rest of the world.

Cites Dairy Herd Gains In State

HARRISBURG (AP) — Significant improvements in Pennsylvania's valuable dairy herd were made last year, reported Pennsylvania State University.

Herbert C. Gilmore, a university official, told the Pennsylvania Dairyman's Association Tuesday that 1960 was the most successful year ever in promoting dairy herd improvement.

The Dairy Herd Improvement Association, which Gilmore supervises, asks farmers to voluntarily submit their herds for testing to achieve its ultimate objective of improving production and quality of dairy milk.

In 1960, Gilmore said, 133,724 cows were tested. New high averages were set in both milk (10,599 pounds per cow) and butterfat (416 pounds per cow) production. The previous highs of 10,352 pounds of milk and 407 pounds of fat were hit in 1959.

Yankee Is Hero Of Confederate Show

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Even re-staged history can have its heroes.

When a replica of the old Union supply ship, the Star of the West, sailed into Charleston harbor Monday, "Confederate" cannons began firing at her as part of the nation's observance of the 100th anniversary of the Civil War.

Suddenly, a fire broke out in one of the batteries manned by cadets from The Citadel, South Carolina's military college. One of the cadets quickly doused the blaze. The hero?

A Yankee, Robert Theobald of Union City, N.J.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitt tackle Dick Mills says he signed a contract with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League because "that's where I want to play."

Mills Tuesday denied he had signed with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League, saying:

"I signed what they told me was an option. If they told me the truth when I signed that paper, I was not signing a contract for my services."

You needn't leave home

■ We accept phone orders and make prompt deliveries—but that's only part of the story. As professional pharmacists, we can deal directly with your physician by phone, take his prescription order and then rush your medication to you. This can be helpful when illness in your family makes it difficult for you to leave the house. Why don't you jot down our phone number right now?
